This letter permits the above-named employers to continue to maintain an alternative dispute resolution program for workers' compensation claims. That program may include an exclusive list of medical treatment, medical evaluation, and/or vocational rehabilitation providers. Pursuant to California Code of Regulations, title 8, section 10204, subdivision (a), please submit a letter annually outlining any changes to your program.

This letter covers the period April 1, 2023 to April 1, 2026. It may become ineffective as to an individual employer on an earlier date, however, if that individual employer no longer carries the required insurance; is no longer a signatory to a current Section 3201.5 provision; or otherwise fails to meet the eligibility requirements of Section 3201.5. Please note that during this eligibility period, you must submit annual reports and reporting data, each as required by regulation. (Cal. Code Regs., tit. 8, § 10204, subd. (a) & § 10203.)

The terms and conditions for continued eligibility, and recordkeeping and reporting requirements outlined in prior letters of eligibility remain in full force and effect. Please note this letter is not a determination that the collective bargaining agreement itself or any part of it is in compliance with Section 3201.5.

Sincerely,

George Parisolto
Administrative Director
Division of Workers' Compensation
